

Happy Birthday, Nea

I have a daughter.. she adopted me and I adopted her when she was around 12 or 13 years old. It's a very strong emotional attachment. She's 22 now, getting ready to get married and plans on starting a family really soon. Her babies will be my grandbabies. She is a person that I am most proud of. She works hard, and has been working that I am aware of since she was 16 years old. Her ethic is remarkable. I don't know, if I really played any part in helping her become who she is. It's a nice fantasy to think so. But, you know it doesn't really matter. What matters, is that she is just a great person. Her birthday is tomorrow. And I want her to know how proud I am of her, how much I love her... and I hope her birthday is the best one ever! Love you Nea... xoxoxoxoxo, Mommy
